Commissioner Sparks Makes his Annual Report.

Over Thirty Million Acres Restored to the People.

Entries and Sales for the Year Twenty-five Millions.

Investigation of Frauds in All Parts of the Country.

Sparks on Land Grabbing.

WASHINGTON, October 14.—Land Commissioner Sparks in his annual report to the secretary of the interior says of the work that he has done: "I am afraid that no matter to which I have referred in this report will be considered of more interest to the public than the aggravated case of corporation to which public lands are subjected. Drawn on by the present tendency of the administration and to which they are still exposed under the present wasteful and fraudulent system of disposal. The operations of the past year, as previously have been conducted under the discouragement of inadequate appropriations but with the private interests apparently have been active and aggressive. Beyond doubt, as has been proved that contain the early statements of the existence of this kind of reform, the contract only of which have been fairly explored.

The report shows that since March 4th, 1885, 31,924,481 acres have been restored to the public domain. The sales, entries and selections of public land for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1887, include 25,111,990 acres and of Indian lands 746,537 acres, making a total of 27,858,078 acres, being an increase over the year of 1886 of 3,733,424 acres and an increase of 1,862,524 as compared with the fiscal year 1885. The receipts from the disposal of public lands are $30,783,921; from sales of Indian lands $1,184,302 a total of $32,288,234, being an increase as compared with the year of 1886 of $2,237,727, and an increase of $6,498,805 as compared with the fiscal year 1885, to which is to be added $9261 received on account of timber depredations and $72,493 received for certified copies of records furnished by the general land office, making the total receipts for the year from all sources $32,289,988.

Here follows a statement of the progress of the public land investigation in the states and territories. In Arizona frauds were committed in favor of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad in a block of land 80 by 100 miles by which the road is given all the good land as alleged by the surveyor general in his report to the commissioner. Apparent innocent owners in this tract, he avers, might easily be shown to merely represent the road.

The recommendation is renewed that an early investigation be made of alleged imperfect and fraudulent surveys in the eastern part of Colorado.

The investigation of fraudulent returns says the commissioner, of swamp lands in surveys heretofore made in Michigan confers a thorough examination of such lands in this state a matter of duty to the government and to settlers.

Stories of fraudulent work come also from the New Mexico, Nevada and Wyoming surveyors general. The field examinations, continues the report, have developed fraudulent and defective surveys heretofore returned to an extent which renders apparent the necessity of an inspection of all preceding surveys and fully justifies the conclusion reached by this office to defer payment of accounts for past surveys until the true character of the work shall have been ascertained.

The report briefly reviews the work of the surveyors general of Arizona, California and New Mexico in examining private land claims. About forty claims in New Mexico were examined and in nearly every instance the surveyor general recommends their rejection principally on the ground of fraud or non compliance with the law. Many were found [illegible] several times as large as that of the original grant.

In discussing the swamp land grants the commissioner says that claims under these grants have already reached to enormous amount of nearly 77,000,000 acres. Patents have issued for nearly 56,715,000 acres. During the past year, says the commissioner, swamp lands claims have been made the subject of thorough investigation. These investigations he says have demonstrated the fact that many of them are fraudulent, the character of the land being misrepresented.

On the subject of the forfeiture of railroad land grants the commissioner quotes from his last annual report and adds: "I renew the recommendation that forfeiture be declared in all cases in which the roads were not completed within the time and in the manner contemplated in the respective grants."

Of final desert land entries the commissioner says that the investigations of the past year have been satisfactory, and that in no previous year has such effective work been done. As a result 2312 entries, covering about 360,000 acres, were held for cancellation and 1154 entries covering about 180,000 acres were cancelled from fraud.

This subject the commissioner pursues at some length. He says: Such a record of crime as that shown by investigations made by special agents during the last two years is rarely to be found. Bold, reckless and grandiose schemes to rob the government of its lands have been discovered and exposed in every state and territory containing public lands, and I think I can truthfully say in every land district and county which especial agent has visited systematic efforts to mislead and corrupt entry men in order that they might become instruments in defrauding the government have been reported to. Men of intelligence and high standing in the community, in instances, millionaires were leaders in these unlawful transactions. Over 400 cases have been discovered wherein perjury or subornation of perjury was committed. In a majority of cases the officers before whom the proofs and papers were executed, large by state and territorial officers, not directly responsible to the land department, were cognizant of the fraud or could have become so by ordinary diligence. While under improved regulations and more efficient supervision the area of fraudulent entry is gradually becoming circumscribed, there still remains much to do, and the entire or general cessation of fraud cannot be expected so long as the facilities offered [illegible] upon existing laws are [illegible] the means provided for [illegible] so small.

The Construction Against Chase In.

DENVER, October 14.—A [illegible] upon the part of [illegible] Denver to have the decision [illegible] charges of the city to [illegible] association in favor [illegible] Denver, and asking the [illegible] that the latter be placed upon an equal footing and accorded the same privileges as Omaha, Kansas City and El Paso, Texas. The produce exchange claim that nearly all classes of goods can be shipped from the Missouri river to California and Oregon at lower rates than they can be shipped from the Mississippi river to Denver, and [illegible] from the westward. The rate from San Francisco to Missouri river points on fifth class freight is $1.50 per 100 pounds and from San Francisco to Denver, same class is $2.75 per 100 pounds. The rate on sugar from San Francisco to Missouri river points is sixty cents per 100 pounds and from San Francisco to Denver $1.50 per 100 pounds. The rate from Omaha to Wray 160 miles east of Denver, 18.75 cents per hundred pounds, and the rate from Omaha to Denver $1.25, and the rate from Denver to Wray $1.15, thus making a difference of $1.75 in favor of Omaha or a difference of about 150 per cent. Several other instances are cited in which they claim the rates to be outrageous.

Dinner for the Knott's Driver.

VALPARAISO, Ind., October 14.—The verdict of the coroner's inquest at the Knott's disaster is made public today. It says: "The accident was the result of the negligence of the train dispatcher in permitting a passenger train to run with a disabled engine, knowing that a [illegible] freight train was but a [illegible] behind it, and by the negligence of [illegible] of Engineer Morney of the freight, running his engine at a high rate of speed through the fog, causing a [illegible] passenger train was but a short distance with a [illegible] engine." The verdict was in accordance with the facts, that the [illegible] ited from ca[illegible] ness or negligence on the part of the train dispatcher and engineer, and censuring the company for allowing a [illegible] pled engine pulling a [illegible] senger train to be on the road a few minutes in advance of a fast freight.

and Cowboys Tour.

DENVER, October 14.—Over twelve thousand [illegible] visitors thronged the [illegible] Athletic grounds this afternoon to witness the cowboys' tournament which for some time had been looked forward to with no little interest it being the first exhibition of the kind ever held in the city. There were [illegible] contestants for prizes from all parts of the country and the exhibition in the state. The tournament will be concluded to-morrow afternoon, when the prizes will be awarded. The programme was as follows:

First, catching, saddling and riding a wild broncho; for the best time, $50, six entries, $10 each; won by [illegible] feat in 7½ minutes; Pinto Jim, 13 minutes. Frank Wyss, Broncho Jim and Bull Knife caught their horses but failed to saddle them. F. Maxwell succeeded in mounting, but was thrown.

Class two roping and hog-tying a wild steer; prize $50. The time of Bull Knife was six minutes, Troy Franklin, 3 minutes, 15 seconds; Bill Cook, one minute, 55 seconds.

Class 3 roping a wild steer by two men and stretching ready for branding, $40. Best time by Bill Smith and Bill Cook, 1 minute, ten seconds.

During the exhibition, Walter Conger fell from the top of the corral and had his left arm broken and his left shoulder dislocated. The neck of one of the broncos was [illegible] in a horrible manner. The leg of one steer was broken while another had a horn knocked off. E. K. Whitehead, secretary of the Colorado Humane society, will, in the morning, publish a card [illegible] the exhibition as brutal, and warns the managers that if repeated to-morrow he will stop the show.

The Fifth Game.

NEW YORK, October 14.—The first game in the east for the world's championship between the Detroit and St. Louis clubs was played at Washington park, Brooklyn, to-day. There were 10,000 spectators. The weather was very chilly. When the teams appeared on the field they received a welcome and enthusiastic plaudits in turn, although it looked as though the people rather favored the League team. As Brooklyn is an Association city this sign could not be accounted for except that perhaps the newspapers were not altogether pleased that the St. Louis men should have attained such a pronounced lead in the race with their fellows. The spectators were not altogether satisfied, for the game in a large majority of innings was of a mechanical order. If ever the stereotyped phrase, "it was a pitchers' battle," could be appropriately used it was in regard to to-day's game. The fielding errors were so unimportant that of the seven runs made six were earned. One error that counted was made by Deacon White at third in the seventh inning. Score: Detroit 2, St. Louis 5.

Sparks Overruled Again.

WASHINGTON, October 14.—Acting Secretary Muldrow to-day rendered a decision in the case of the United States vs. Pearsall and Freeman Gunnison land district, Colorado, involving mineral entries of placer claims on appeal from the commissioner of the general land office. The commissioner held that the location of the claims did not conform to the system of public survey as contemplated by the statute, and that they were not located in good faith for mining purposes, but to obtain the control of the water. The acting secretary holds to the contrary, and on the first point says that in the construction of the statute as held in the case of William Ralbin, wherein it was decided that the requirement of the statute that the claim upon surveyed land must conform to the legal subdivisions thereof "as near as practicable," must be construed to mean that the claims must conform only "as near as reasonably practicable," that it is the intention of the mining laws generally to permit persons to take a certain quantity of land fit for mining and not compel them to take such a quantity irrespective of its fitness for mining.

POWDERLY'S VICTORY.

Fight Against the Master Workman Brought On.

Chicago Delegates Revile Him Bitterly Yards Difficulty.

Powderly's Course Endorsed by a Large Majority.

Work of Revising the Order's Laws Taken Up.

The Knights Assemble.

MINNEAPOLIS, October 14.—Delegates of the secret session of the Knights of Labor assembly on Thursday afternoon have just come out to show that most of the business of the convention was conducted in. The committee on boycotts introduced resolutions condemning the action of Master Workman Powderly and the executive board in declaring the big Chicago stock yard strike off. Some of the delegates from districts 24 and 37 of Chicago in this city were a feeling of bitterness against Powderly and all of the executive board except Barry. They offered a substitute resolution roundly denouncing the action of the general master workman and the executive board.

MINNEAPOLIS, October 14.—The committee on law reported to the general assembly this morning, and it was found there was no disposition to make any important changes in the machinery or methods of the order. A number of amendments and propositions were rejected as being unnecessary or already covered. A rule permitting district or national [illegible] to regulate the time of delivery of charters to newly organized local [illegible] was adopted. A motion to strike out that part of the constitution which gives power to the general executive board to [illegible] an amendment so local [illegible] at any time was met by a substitute that only on request of five district [illegible] should the board submit an amendment. The law [illegible] fying members of the general assembly was slightly altered, so that delegates hereafter have a record of attendances at three sessions of the district assembly instead of four. The report of the committee is only about half finished.

Chas. F. Leib and Gustave F. Schilling made vehement speeches sustaining the substitute and roundly denouncing Powderly. They claimed that the action of Powderly had defeated the purposes of the order. Mr. Harry in his remarks stated that he thought the men would have gained their point without any expense to the order, and would have been successful had they been allowed to stay out.

Mr. Powderly took the floor and went over the matter from beginning to end. He made the statement that the executive board was advised by him, and if there was any blame in the matter it belonged to him. The ayes and nays were called for, and the substitute was lost. The committee's resolution was then passed by 116 to 49.

Boodlers Arrest.

PARIS, October 14.—The order relieving Boulanger from his command and placing him under arrest directs that he be placed under close arrest for thirty days. During that time the ministry is to decide whether he shall be deprived of his command. Both branches of the chamber of deputies decided to make him a candidate for that body if he resigned or was removed from his command.

Rumors were persistently circulated to-day that General Boulanger had resigned his commission in the army.

DENVER, October 14.—At the conclusion of the twenty-first session of the grand lodge of Colorado I. O. G. T., yesterday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Grand chief templar Rev. Isaac B. Self, Canon City; grand counselor, W. H. Hoskins, Laramie, Wyo.; grand vice templar, Mrs. Etta Sewell, Walsenburg; grand secretary, Frank Read, Arvada. The next session will be held at Colorado Springs on the second Tuesday in October 1888. Steps were taken to prosecute the work of organizing. The grand lodge has fifty lodges and 2000 members, and a cash balance on hand of over $700.

Minister Manning's Funeral.

NEW YORK, October 14.—Funeral services over the remains of the late Minister Manning were held this morning at Trinity chapel. Bishop Whipple officiated. The pall bearers were General Sherman, General Beauregard, J. Floyd King, E. L. Viele, R. W. Gilder, Percy Roberts, J. Pierpont Morgan, Henry R. Jackson, Governor Greene of New Jersey, Russell P. Flower, Wm. Dorsheimer, Geo. Preston and Dr. William Polk. After the services the body was sent by express to New Orleans, whither the widow unaccompanied went this afternoon and where the interment will take place.

Condition of Trade.

NEW YORK, October 14.—R. G. Dun & Co. in their weekly review of trade say: "In spite of the many favorable conditions noted last week prices do not advance. The treasury added $33,000,000 to the circulation in September, and has added about $15,000,000 since, and the Baltimore and Ohio bargain has been ratified, and the Reading reorganization finished, yet prices of stocks fell on Wednesday to an average of $58.77 per share, the lowest since April and May 1886, and excepting a few weeks then the lowest for two years. Wheat has lost every advance since September 26th. Corn for a fortnight past, and oats for a month past, have occasionally risen, only to recede again. Cotton has declined ½ of a cent during the

The President's Tour.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark., October 14.—President Cleveland's train crossed into Arkansas from Missouri this morning while he and his party were at breakfast. No word or excitement spread on entering the state, nothing was known of the [illegible] with which the southern people are credited. The day was bright and charming. After passing Ozark mountains early in the morning the train ran through a [illegible] region offering little in the way of popular demonstration. An opportunity was offered to examine and enjoy the good things found, of which the ladies were taking full advantage. The president bade good bye reluctantly to the northwest region, saying that his stay had been brief and that his flight from point to point had been rather too hastily and that so many things of interest had been left unseen.

MEMPHIS, October 14.—The president and party arrived here this evening. After attending an exhibition of fireworks a reception was held for about an hour at their hotel.

The Fisheries Commission.

OTTAWA, October 14.—Sir Charles Tupper has been selected Canadian representative on the fisheries commission.

TORONTO, October 14.—The Mail says: "Lord Bayard intends to offer commercial union with Canada as the basis of settlement for the fisheries imbroglio. Either commercial union or nothing. It was this circumstance, the Mail intimates, which led Sir John Macdonald to [illegible] Sir Charles Tupper as Canada's representative on the fishery commission. The idea of commercial union is distasteful to Macdonald."

WASHINGTON, October 14.—The appointment of state [illegible] cordially indorsed by the appointment of Sir Charles Tupper of Canada as one the British fishery commissioners. This last appointment, it is believed, completes the British commission which will consist of Joseph Chamberlain, Sir Lionel West, British minister to the United States and Sir Charles Tupper.

It is learned at the department of state that the approaching negotiations will be confined to the subject of the fisheries, and that this government has never contemplated or proposed a discussion of the subject of commercial union by the commissioners.

In respect to published statements that the British commissioners intend to offset our claims of jurisdiction over the waters of Behring sea by a claim to Canadian waters lying between headlands it is stated positively that the department of state has never taken a position that could be construed as either asserting or denying any right of jurisdiction over the waters of Behring sea.

ST. LOUIS, October 14.—An account is published here to-day of the probable organization of the lead smelting firms of the west with a view to forming a compact to sustain American lead markets. The move is said to have been quietly pushed to a successful issue, and the details are now being perfected. It will be known as the National Lead Trust company, with headquarters in St. Louis. Among the chief promoters named are: Thompson & Co., owners of the St. Louis Smelting and Refining company, Gustave Billings, of the Socorro, N. M. reduction works; the owners of the Hartford reduction works of Leadville, several Utah smelters and plant owners the St. Louis white lead manufacturers and principal lead ore dealers of Zacatecas and the City of Mexico. On the other hand W. H. Crogg, president of the Southern White Lead company of St. Louis, says his concern will not enter the trust and that he knew of five of the largest white lead companies in the United States that are not in it.

The Yellow Fever Outlook.

WASHINGTON, October 14.—A telegram was received at the marine hospital bureau this afternoon from D. V. Porter, president of the Key West board of health, announcing his arrival at Tampa, Florida, last evening, and saying the disease is undoubtedly yellow fever. Health Officer Strausse of Palatka telegraphed as follows: "A refugee six days from Tampa died here this morning. Exhibited yellow fellow. The premises are under strict quarantine."

A Southern Hanging.

ATLANTA, October 14.—Charles Edwards colored was hanged this forenoon at Clarkesville for the murder of Wm. Echols last May. Edwards met his victim on a lonely road late at night and riddled the body with bullets. Edwards had been heard to make threats against the life of Echols a number of times before the killing occurred. The trouble between them was caused by a woman.

Huntington's International.

MONTEZUMA, GALVESTON, October 14.—It is announced that Huntington's International road which runs from Eagle Pass to a point on the Central railway, will be completed next month that the rolling stock will be ready under a contract that a first class service between New York and Mexico can then be had. This would be a gain of three days and a half over the present time.

PROVIDENCE, October 14.—The Baltic mill in Baltic, Conn., owned by H. L. Aldrich & Co. of Providence was totally [illegible] by fire [illegible] insured; $277,000. The mill was a large five story stone building, one thousand feet long by about six hundred wide. It was built in 1865 for Arnold and William Sprague. Latterly it has been operated on a lease by Aldrich & Co. Nine hundred hands are thrown out of employment. The origin of the fire is unknown. Cotton was stored in the mill, and in a few minutes the flames had spread through the entire building. Large gas works in the rear were also destroyed.

LONDON, October 14.—Chamberlain, speaking at Bush Mills, County Antrim, today said it was not the upper classes but the poor classes of Ulster that opposed the Parnellite programme. He admitted a part of Irish [illegible] was especially in favor of home rule, but was certain if he could refer only the people of Belfast on this question, the [illegible] people of Ulster would become [illegible] Irish home rule. If it were decided ultimately that home rule was desirable [illegible] Ulster would not satisfy the opposition of home rule in Ulster who under no circumstances would submit to it.

The contest in Maryland is a very exciting one. It looks [illegible] than any other state. If reports be true, Senator Gorman and his friends are the corrupt [illegible] of politicians this country has ever had. It is now believed that the republican ticket will carry the city of Baltimore. This contest will materially affect President Cleveland. Senator Gorman was one of the brightest members of the national democratic committee in 1884. At that time he put himself on a confidential footing with Mr. Cleveland, and has retained his confidence since. Mr. Cleveland has been very much compromised by these relations, but Gorman has secured a very bad set of men for Mr. Cleveland to appoint to office.

Our telegraph yesterday contained the news that a suit would be begun against the vestry and wardens of the church of the Holy Trinity in New York city because of the violation of the "contract labor law" in securing the landing of the Rev. Mr. Warren, an Englishman, who is engaged to come as the rector of the church. There is little doubt about this being a violation of the law, and the law is a very sad one. Under this law only professional actors, lecturers and singers are excepted. All others who come to this country under contract to do any labor or service for money are expressly forbidden to land. The prosecution which has been conducted is not aimed at the Rev. Mr. Warren or the church of the Holy Trinity but at the law. It is hoped that by enforcing this law its absurdity will be demonstrated and undoubtedly it will.

A reporter asked Mr. Edison what [illegible] if any, were to be done since electricity [illegible] cheap. Edison replied he will be enriched by it. He said the labor saving machinery of this country represents the labor of one thousand million men or fifty times as much labor as that of all the men in the country. The result of this extensive use of labor saving machinery is that the mechanic can accomplish as many times as much labor and is therefore earning more. Mr. Edison said, "It is the first time in the world's history that a skillful mechanic with a single day's labor can buy a barrel of flour." Fifty years ago there was a great prejudice against all labor saving machinery. It was the cause of many riots. But the intelligent laboring man now sees that this labor saving machinery has been of great benefit to him. The industrious frugal mechanic of to-day really enjoys more solid comforts than the magnificent Cardinal Wolsey in the times of Henry the VIII. What were luxuries to him are every day comforts to the average laboring man.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF DENVER.

Several circulars have been sent to women in this city inviting them to the coming meeting of the Woman's Home Club of Denver. The club was organized by "Sister Ada." The purposes of this club are set forth in the circular so clearly and so well that we print it in full.

The Colorado Woman's club, an association of women, organized by women and for women is growing itself a fine expression of the broad human sympathies of our western life. In the present period of transition from the old order of things in which work was respectable only for man and there remained to every well brought up woman but the ideal occupation of weeping, to the approaching day when the character of the worker will ennoble all honest work, many hardships and humiliations beset self supporting women of intelligence.

True to the western spirit of enterprise there are found in Colorado a large proportion of young pioneers in the new fields of work for women, and their trials appeal to every large hearted sister of wealth or leisure.

To give practical expression to all womanly sympathy with these young toilers the Woman's club has been formed. This organization has received not with any design of promoting the selfish enjoyment of the organizers but in order to systematize the work that is found necessary for the motherly guidance and protection of the young and for the defense of all the interests of self supporting women of every age.

As headquarters for the work of the association a large house has been contributed, furnished, where a pleasant home is offered to all respectable women whose occupations do not admit of domestic ties. Employers' homes are furnished to whom the control of the employment bureau can be directed at the club office, and their interests are not neglected.

Although there are still some misunderstandings in regard to the character and objects of the [illegible] as the Woman's Home club, also known as the Woman's Exchange club, also stands as a guarantee of respectability for any woman.

Young girls who in any serious sense need reforming [illegible] are cared for [illegible].

Another misunderstanding has arisen through the circumstance of the occupant of the club house by means of bi-weekly contributions from the people which has led to an erroneous impression that the establishment is a charitable institution, but this error is being corrected by recognition of the fact that every girl must pay a fair price for boarding and lodging, or have such payment guaranteed by a member of the board of directors or some other responsible person. The institution cannot then be considered a charity in any other sense than that in which every well-endowed college is a charity.

But since there is yet no endowment to ensure the permanent success of the work undertaken, and since a heavy rent must be sustained in order to secure a necessarily central locality for the club house, the [illegible] membership fees, which are being widely solicited, must for several years constitute the needed endowment fund.

When the work in which the Club is engaged shall have become quite self-sustaining, as is confidently hoped will be the case in the near future, there are several very important plans to be put into practice for an extension of this work in the interests of young women.

Meanwhile the first object of the existence of the Colorado Woman's club is being attained in giving protection to its young girls in surrounding them by the home influences which they have lost or never felt, and in endeavoring to raise the tenor of their busy lives by social [illegible], and library interests.

This organization solicits yearly membership from women for which a fee of two dollars is required. This entitles the subscriber to the use of the employment bureau and to the use of the club room. We know of no movement in Colorado which can do so much practical good as this. Many young women in Denver are working in stores as clerks where the regular wages are only four dollars a week. It is hardly necessary to say that those working for such wages find it difficult to maintain a respectable existence. This club proposes to help them. That there is need for this help needs no demonstration. This club presents a way for those who are in comfortable circumstances to aid those who are not, with out lessening the self-respect of the latter. There ought to be a very full and generous response to this circular in this city. Those who should wish to join this club, may do so by sending their names and the annual fee to Mrs. T. M. Patterson care of the H[illegible].

Garfield County Coal Field.

Denver Times.

The officials of the coal and coke exhibited in the Colorado Midland pavilion represent some of the most extensive and best coal fields in the west.

On the main line of the Midland, at Cardiff, three miles east of Glenwood Springs, a branch line runs south up Four Mile creek to Jerome park. About twelve miles from the main line and on the branch the coal beds begin and they extend a long distance into the park. The immense veins have been partially opened up, and already the developments show the coal deposits to be superior to any coal in the state. The coke from these coals is of a very superior quality, an analysis of which is shown to be even of a better quality than the famous Connellsville coke of Pennsylvania which has long held the distinction of being the best coke in the United States. In comparison with the Connellsville coke this analysis shows it to be superior to the latter in that it is richer in carbon and free from impurities. In comparison with the Cardiff coke of Wales the best coke in the world the Jerome Park coke is within 2 per cent of being its equal while the Connellsville coke is only within 10 per cent of being its equal.

Following the Grand river to New Castle, Second Glenwood Springs, the coal fields are developed for [illegible] miles and are open up. The coal here differs with respect to [illegible] from that from Jerome park, coal here [illegible] is superior in carbon and free from impurities.

The extension of the Midland's branch to Jerome park and the main line to Newcastle will open up almost limitless fields of coal, which as a steam or domestic fuel is unsurpassed by coal discovered west of the Mississippi river and as a cooking coal it is not superior in the United States.

With an excellent supply of superior coal and coke brought into the markets at a rate far below the extravagant prices now charged in the mountains for fuel the possibilities of the mining and smelting industries of Leadville and Aspen which have millions and millions of tons of low grade ores awaiting cheap fuel for production and reduction, cannot be easily estimated.

Australia a Fossil Continent.

Cornhill Magazine.

About the beginning of the tertiary period, however, just after the chalk was all deposited, and just before the comparatively modern clays and sandstones of the London basin began to be laid down, an arm of the sea broke in the connection which once subsisted between Australia and the rest of the world, probably by a land bridge via Java, Sumatra, the Malay peninsula and Asia generally. "But how do you know," asks the candid inquirer, "that such a connection ever existed at all?" Simply thus, most laudable investigator—[illegible] and because [illegible] in Australia now. Large land mammals do not swim across a broad ocean. There are none in New Zealand, none in the Azores, none in Fiji, none in Tahiti, none in Madeira, none in Teneriffe—none, in short, on any oceanic island which has not within itself formed part of a great continent. How could there be, indeed. The [illegible] must necessarily have got there from some where, and wherever we find islands like Britain, or dependencies of Australia, or South America, possessing large and abundant indigenous quadrupeds of the same genera as possessed by the mainland, we may at once infer that they must formerly have been connected with it. The Dingo or New Zealand [illegible] dog. The very fact that Australia supports a large group of [illegible] marsupial conquerors over [illegible] Europe and America, suffices to [illegible] to prove beyond question that [illegible] communication must once have existed between Australia and those distant continents. In fact, to this day a belt of very deep sea, known as Wallace's Line [illegible] to separate and cut off a belt of deep sea the flora of sharply the plants and animals of the Australian [illegible] from those of the common Indian and Burmese portion. South of Wallace's Line we have found several islands big and small including New Guinea, Australia Tasmania and the Moluccas, Celebes, Timor, Java, and Banda. All these have whose particular geographical position on the map must of course be readily remembered for this age of school boards and universal examinations by every pupil teacher and every Girton girl who now devoted by many steams of much shallower water, but they all stand on a great submarine bank, and obviously formed at one time parts of the same wide Western continent, because the animals of Australia [illegible] are still found in every one of them. Any [illegible] or Moravian school house of our [illegible] can demonstrate [illegible] discovered anywhere south of Wallace's line. That narrow belt of deep sea short forms an ocean barrier which has existed there without alteration ever since the end of the [illegible] period. From that time to this the Australian fauna shows no three [illegible] sweep from direct land communication between Australia and any part of the outer world beyond that narrow line of division.

The St Paul Daily Globe in speaking of Mr. Joseph Grismer's dramatization of "Called Back" says: "Mr. Grismer has given 'Called Back' a faultless dramatization. He has preserved the plot with wonderful accuracy and has hightened with realistic effect every character and situation in the story. As an actor Mr Grismer is quiet and forcible, having a graceful dignity and a cultured manner. There is a striking ease in his carriage and a melody in his voice which creates a most agreeable impression on his audience. In his scenes with Pauline, he is tender and lover-like, while with Macari and Ceneri his action and reading is full of dramatic fire."

A gentleman who is well acquainted with local railroad matters and who resides in this city was interviewed by a representative of this paper upon the failure of the city council to pass the ordinance vacating a portion of certain streets and alleys to the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad. He stated that in his opinion the aldermen who voted against the passage of the ordinance had acted very unwisely. He thought that the best interests of the city demanded the passage of the ordinance. The streets and alleys which the ordinance proposed to have vacated are now practically useless. If they are to be put into a condition for public use it will cost the city something in the neighborhood of $5000 or $7000 for bridges and grading. The Atchison company had met with a great many discouragements in the construction of its Denver extension. This gentleman thought that had the council manifested a disposition to deal generously with the railroad company that the company would have dealt very generously with Colorado Springs. As long as these highways are now of no account for travel and as long as the private interests of no individual citizens would be injured he could not see what the city would gain by refusing to allow the company the concessions asked for. In this connection it is stated that the council at its meeting next Monday evening will pass an ordinance somewhat similar to the one rejected, though containing several modifications.
